DISTRICT CROPPINGS

And Other Items of Interest in a General Way

Chas. Munroe arrived at Wilmer on Monday's stage from Nelson and has since gone up to the Lucky Boy group on the south side of Toly creek, where he says he has determined to work on his property steadily for the next year. He said he had heard of the big strike made by Messrs. Starke and Washburn and knowing it adjoined his claims he at once decided to come over and develop them thoroughly. He said he had been doing his best to induce some Nelson men to come over and prospect the ground where the new strike was made and now these men are regretting their slowness. Mr. Munroe is admittedly one of the best workers that has ever struck this camp. Last season the work he accomplished alone was astonishing and everyone wishes him the success his efforts so much merit.

Last Friday Gold Commissioner J. E. Griffith gave the big band of Stoney Indians, who came over the Rocky mountains from the Northwest, instructions to return home at once, and sent Geo. Willard and Willie McNeil along with them to see that they did not kill any game en route. This claim is to be highly commended and throughout the valley the people are very much pleased with it. For years past the sportsmen here have protested against these Indians being allowed to make an annual excursion here as they have been in the habit of making a great slaughter of our big game while en route, and of late years big game has diminished so rapidly in this particular section that an effort has been made to have it reserved by law for several years.

Chas. Palmer returned by Saturday's steamer from a visit to the Portland fair, which he pronounces to be good. Although he searched diligently for an exhibit from North East Kootenay he found none and says the British Columbia ore exhibit is not very large, the specimens being all cut down to about four inches square and built up in a pyramid. The object he saw that most interested and that most of all he wanted to bring back was $2,000,000 in gold dust.

G. O. Buchanan has received instructions that all claims for lead bounty in respect of lead mined and being the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905, should reach Ottawa not later than Aug. 15. Mr. Buchanan wishes that all claimants would forward their claims to him at Nelson without delay.

W. B. Rutan, manager of the Peterborough Trading Co., returned by Wilmer on the Parmigan Saturday, after spending six weeks holidays at Winnipeg and other eastern cities. He reports having thoroughly enjoyed himself and his appearance bears out the statement.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Butterworth of Moins, Me., arrived at Windermere on the Parmigan Friday to have a look at the scenery of this valley and were delighted with their trip. Mr. Butterworth is president of the well-known John Deer Plow Works Company.

The steamer Parmigan arrived yesterday afternoon on a special trip made for the benefit of a number of tourists and started back by Golden at once.

An exhibition of the making will be given at the Races by four experts.

A dance is being arranged for Friday night in the Windermere Hall in connection with the races.

Little Ed. Harrison is raffling the big eagle he shot last fall. The winner will be a lucky person.

Miss Hattie Rutherford arrived at Atholmer from Golden on Saturday's boat to visit Mr. Lake.

H. G. Gordon sent his race horse "Prince" up from Golden on last Friday's boat with Dr. McAbbe, who is training it for the races.

Sam Jackson, the popular travelling tailor, visited his numerous customers in the valley last week, leaving on the Parmigan Monday morning.

Premier McBride has secured another appeal from his Conservative administration of the Provincial Legislature in the election of Manon for Alberta.

The Columbia River Lumber Company's new store and warehouse at Atholmer are now nearing completion and will make quite a creditable addition to the appearance of that enterprising town.

Every man owes it to himself and his family to master a trade or profession. Read the display advertisement of the six Morse School of Telegraphy, in this issue and learn how easily a young man or lady may learn telegraphy and be secured a position.

In the mad rush for wealth, the denizens of the valley often forget all about the lovely nature that surrounds them with until the pilgrim from afar comes to remind them of it. Just now there have many such reminders, and some at last are beginning to realize that our scenery will yet be worth dollars and cents.

In Toronto a magistrate has sentenced a helpless cripple, who was unable to stand in the dock, to six months' imprisonment as a vagrant. This in a town that glories in being known as "A city of churches". Is it any wonder the wild West prefers to continue to be classed among the heathens? Why, in Wilmer every man in town would "die up" for a crippled vag and our policeman and magistrate would be near the head of the list.

The resolution calling upon the Dominion Government to investigate the tinne resources of British Columbia, which was passed by the Associated Boards of Trade is to be complied with this year if funds are available. If not, next year at the latest. When the investigation is made it will be made by thoroughly competent men. Assurances of this has been given by the Minister of Interior.

More High Grade Ore Found

C. M. Keep came down from Paradise last Saturday. The work done on the Silver Belt and Silver Crown groups was showing good results. The drift in the high grade ore shaft was extended 10 feet. The ore continued to improve as they went in and at the face there was nearly a foot of ore on the hanging wall. This ore runs from 500 to 900 ounces in silver. This lead was also traced several hundred feet by surface work, showing the same high grade ore. The galena lead was also traced 100 feet north of shaft No. 1, where ore was found by running an open cut. Henry Schweitzer discovered some galena float along the quartzite reef on the Carbonate claim, just north of the Paradise workings.

Mr. Keep expects some parties in to look at this property as soon as railway construction work is actively begun. It is possible that a lease may be given on part or all of the property on several acreage figures.

COUNTY COURT

His Honor Judge Forin held a sitting of the County Court here last Saturday, when several cases were disposed of.

Thompson vs. Chamberlain: Charles Thompson sued Geo. Chamberlain for wages as bartender, etc. Defendant denied liability and as the plaintiff had no corroborative evidence of agreement to pay wages the action was dismissed.

Michelson vs. Gallop: This was an appeal from judgment of the Small Debts Court, action for wages and transportation from Winnipeg to Canterbury. Plaintiff claimed that defendant was to pay transportation in addition to wages. Defendant denied and claimed that the agreement was that he was to advance the fare and deduct same from wages.

Re: vs. Nickelson. The defendant was charged with stealing the sum of $30 from Eric Sundin at Atholmer on the 10th of July last. He was out on bail in two securities of $500 each. The evidence went to show Nickelson and Sundin occupied the same room at the Atholmer House and that Sundin went to bed on the night the money was taken very much under the influence of liquor. The parties were old friends and acquaintances and Nickelson claimed to have taken the money for safe keeping. He, however, used part of the money and secreted the balance of it under a stamp on Cartwright's ranch. Policeman Cameron showed fine detective skill in tracing and locating the stolen money and working up the case generally.

Several influential people, who had formerly opposed Nickelson, and the Hon. W. C. Wells testified to the good character hitherto borne by him. The Judge referred in strong terms to the heinous character of the offence, stating that it was a penitentiary one, but that in view of the defendant's previous good character, as testified by several influential people who had known him for a number of years, he concluded to exercise the powers conferred upon him by recent legislation and allow him to go on suspended sentence. Hugh Macdonald acted for the defendant.

Hon. Wells Here

W. C. Wells, member of the Provincial Legislature for Columbia riding, arrived on the Parmigan Saturday to spend a week among his electors, but owing to some pressing business was obliged to return to his home at Palliser on Monday, but intends to return next week. While here Mr. Wells visited the various towns and talked with all his friends here. He was seen by The Outcrop reporter he said he would call at this office and talk of matters concerning the district generally, but did not have the time. However, Mr. Wells said he was much pleased to see the progress made at this end of the valley since his last visit and said that he believed that the valley would now continue to fill up with people and become prosperous. He said he had no doubt as to the railroad being built through the valley now and thought that the road would be built with as little delay as conditions would permit. Continuing Mr. Wells said: "I have no reason why this valley should not fill up and become as prosperous as the Okanagan, and you know how land is selling there and fruit is being raised. I think, judging from the success already achieved in growing fruit here, that wherever the land can be irrigated it will ultimately prove very valuable and that fruit as an industry will prove very important.

"I was pleased to hear that Mr. Starke and Mr. Washburn had made an important strike and hope it will prove to be even more important than it is now considered. Yes, I believe mining will be the most important industry, but, of course, it cannot be expected to develop rapidly until the railway is built."

Speaking of game protection Mr. Wells said he wished to learn the desire of the people here. He thought it might be well to have reserve placed on the whole of Columbia riding against killing any big game, or it might be better to place only the Kootenay valley under reserve. Which ever the people here thought would be best he would get enacted.

Mr. Wells said so soon as he heard that the Stoney Indians were coming here he had sent word to Mr. Griffith to have them sent back to the planes.

Sunday evening Mr. Wells said he had to go home in the morning but would return next week with Mr. Griffith and go down to No. 3 creek to see about building the road there.

GOLDEN NUGGETS

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Golden, B.C., July 29—

His Honor Judge Forin presided at Court on Thursday evening, July 27th. The only case being that of Shaw, charged with shooting at Conductor Bruce of the C.P.R. His Honor reserved the decision until his return from Wilmer. Geo. S. McCarter, barrister, of Revelstoke appeared for the C.P.R.

Mrs. Thos. King left for Revelstoke on Thursday last, where she will spend a couple of weeks.

S. Hewison left on the Parmigan for Windermere on Friday last.

Mrs. Geo. P. Wells of Palliser was in town Friday.

The Lido Wild Camping Club gave a jolly dance in the Columbia Hall last Monday evening.

Miss B. McKenzie arrived from Vancouver this week and left on the Parmigan for Wilmer.

R. R. Bruce came in from Banff this week.

W. S. Rutan of Wilmer returned this week from a trip to eastern Canada and is looking well.

J. Moore and party came in from Spillimacheen on Monday, having completed a trail leading to a property situated on the North Fork of Spillimacheen.

Mining Records.

The following records have been made at the Wilmer Mining Recorder's office:

July 28—Creole, on Michelson creek, by S. Der, July 19.

July 28—Blackford, on S. F. of Toly creek, by P. Michelson.

July 29—Black Diamond and Black Diamond Fraction, on Toly creek, by Jos. Lake.

Aug. 1—Bright and Lucky Bay (four years each), on Toly creek, by Chas. Munroe.

Aug. 1—J. A. Gilder to Chas. Munroe all interest in Black Hill.

Judge Forin earned the esteem and friendship of many a man when he remarked in Court Saturday that while he deplored the fact it was a habit of the country for men to get drunk, yet the witnesses had a perfect right to get drunk if he wanted to.

S. S. FOWLER IS QUOTED

Says Everything is Satisfactory at Paradise Mine

Nelson News: A rich strike is reported from North East Kootenay. Prospectors on the North Fork of Toly creek, an affluent of the Columbia, have found a vein of very high grade silver. The location is near the line of the Kootenay Central Railway.

S. S. Fowler, who has lately returned from a visit to the Paradise mine, states that, while work is progressing in many mines and claims in that district, no definite advance can be made until transportation facilities are secured.

"We are working at the Paradise," said Mr. Fowler, "with a force of half a dozen men. Everything is satisfactory so far. There is no object in hastening development. We can't ship until the railway is through."

"I don't think anything has been done yet towards beginning railway construction. There is a party of about 15 men, chiefly Galicians, in camp about five miles south of Golden. They are said to be the advance guard of a construction party."

"Yes, there is some excitement in the district. It began just as I was leaving there. A strike of very high grade silver has been made beyond the North Fork of Toly creek. I didn't hear the name of the mine or of its owners, but the strike is apparently genuine. The whole district is excited. I believe the vein is silver, with very little lead in it."

THE BIG GRANBY MINE

B.C. May Have Biggest Copper Mine in the World

It seems probable that British Columbia is to give the world its largest copper mine, and that the Granby will be the mine. The Boston Commercial has the following article on the big Boundary propositions:

Granby is making an average of about 1,500,000 pounds of copper and earning approximately $80,000 net monthly. Its copper is costing, all expenses of refining, selling, management, taxes, etc., included, between 8 and 9 cents a pound. After July the production is expected to be nearly 2,000,000 pounds monthly, and the cost not over 8 cents a pound. On this basis, the Granby will earn, on a 15-cent copper market, more than $1 per share on its 1,500,000 shares of stock, or on a basis of 80 cents per share on a 13-cent copper market.

It is the intention to increase production to 5,000 tons and possibly 10,000 tons of ore daily.

The Granby already has 10,000,000 tons of ore bled out and 15,000,000 tons more partially developed by tunnels, pits, upraises, etc. Its vein is 70 feet wide, and is a self-fluxing smelter ore. The ability to handle this ore—including mining, transportation, smelting, converting, refining and selling and management—for $5.50 to $7.75 per ton has already been demonstrated. As the ore yields about 25 pounds of fine copper and $1.75 in gold and silver to the ton, it has a present average value of $5.50 per ton and, on a 15-cent copper market, would be worth approximately $5 per ton. Should Granby's production be increased to 5,000 tons daily and its net profit maintained at $1.50 to $2 per ton, its annual earnings would amount to $2,250,000 to $3,000,000, or at a rate of $2 to $2.75 per share on its capitalization.

It will be seen, therefore, there is a possibility that Granby may eventually be worth $20 to $30 per share.

Shopping in Japan.

Japanese ceremoniousness makes it a serious matter going to a Japanese shop unless you are going to buy silk handkerchiefs—the only things foreigners buy often enough to spoil the manners of the shopkeeper. You get out of your richness, and the richness buy expensive your high and mightiness. When all the attendants in the shop salutes you with they would get up and let their eyes and explain what you want. When they do get up the Japanese equivalent of the shopwalker and three or four counter jumpers in rotation ask you to repeat your order while they offer you five cups of tea. It is Japanese tea, and there is no milk or sugar, but you can have salted cherry blossoms if you want it to be a good shop. This is the Japanese way of offering the customer a drink. Good Japanese shops contain nothing except the attendants. When you have got to go for an explaining what you want the proprietor gives orders to attendants. Off they go to a run—good servants always run and bring back the goods tied up in faded green silk handkerchiefs or green cotton cloths.

Mr. Leslie Biss. When Mr. Matthews went to his club one evening, according to the Bostonian, he went to the letter box and looked through the compartment marked "M" and found therein a very plain envelope with a tall, Mr. Matthews was puzzled, as he had had no dealings with the assistant tailor, until he again looked at the envelope and found that he had unwittingly opened a letter belonging to another member of the club; so he put the letter back in the envelope and returned it to the compartment. As Mr. Matthews was turning to go he noticed the number for whom the bill was intended coming toward the letter box. A minute later he came into the reading room, where Mr. Matthews was sitting with several others. Taking from his envelope the bill, he read it attentively for a few minutes, signed, tore it in bits, then, with a wink and the leer of an invincible conqueror, commented, "Poor, silly little girl."

The Fable in Russia. This fable, dealing with the fall of Witte, the Russian finance minister, is related in a brochure entitled "A Glance at the Secrets of Russian Policy," published at Vienna. "The czar dreamed the following singular dream: He saw three cows, one fat, one lean and one decrepit. The first was sent for the metropolitan Pallas and begged him to explain the dream, but the metropolitan declined. The czar then sent for Father John of Kronstadt and made the same request of him. Father John stroked his long curly hair with his hand and made reply in the following words: 'Your majesty, I understand your dream in this way: The fat cow is the finance minister, the lean one is the Russian people and the blind one—' 'Don't be afraid, Go on and the czar. The blind cow is your majesty!'

Leaves and Colors. Bright colors assumed by maple, sumac and amelops during the autumn months are the result of the oxidation of the color compounds, or color generators, of the leaf cells. Long protracted cool weather is most favorable to the production of autumn tints, and slight frosts that are not severe enough to kill the cells hasten the display of beauty by producing an early fall. Brighter the bright purples, oranges and reds. Leaves containing much white acid never give bright autumn tints, while those containing sugar give the very prettiest.

The Danger of Fox Hunting. Crowds "go hunting," but few ride to hounds, so statistics are absolutely untrue. Of the thousands who go out to hounds to grief least, are the sportsmen who keep their eyes on the leading hound and try to land on his tail every time. The golden rule is: Throw your heart over first, and then you and your horse and the leading dog and the fox are certain to be in the same field. It is level money which you get killed first—London Mail.

Not Giddy. "To what do you attribute your longevity?" asked the reporter. "My which?" queried the oldest inhabitant. "Your longevity," repeated the reporter. "Never had it. As far as I can remember I ain't never had such a complaint."

A Grand Success. Mrs. De Byle—I've got ahead of Mrs. De Fashion for the first time. Husband—How? Mrs. De Byle—Mrs. De Fashion's last party two of the guests failed, but at my grand reception last night the crowd was so great that one of the ladies had to be carried out, and six had to have a doctor.

The Maids. Mrs. Ascum—I'm surprised to find you looking for another servant. I thought you engaged one yesterday. Mrs. Hiram Offen—Oh, she's a lady's maid. She merely waits on me. I'm looking for another one to wait on her.

Ingenious and Effective. "Three new families have moved into the neighborhood," she said, "and I want to find out who they are, but it would be beneath my dignity to go chasing about the neighborhood. I'll just invite Mrs. Gossy to dinner."

When a Woman is Growing Old. When a woman gets so she doesn't care about the size of her feet and nurse her attention entirely her soul, you can set it down that old age is creeping on—Fleetfoot (Mrs.) Guide.

KOOTENAY CENTRAL RY.

There is practically no new development in the construction work started on the Kootenay Central Railroad, only a few graders being employed as yet, but even this is encouraging as it is evident the company intend to live up to the requirements of its charter and subsidy.

Another and a most reasonable theory is now advanced for the necessity of the early completion of this road. It is argued that from Furnie Vancouver can be reached much quicker at present by the American railroads than by the Canadian, and, therefore, the C. P. R. intend to have a grade through this valley that will enable their train to make very fast time and as this route will also be shorter than their present route, with its many transfers, a full day's time can be saved. Thus, it is claimed that Jim Hill's road are forcing the early construction of the Kootenay Central Railway.
